The moving decision

At Oxley Gardens we understand that deciding to move into a retirement complex can be a daunting and time consuming process. Renting within a retirement village provides you with the added security of living within a gated complex, being surrounded by likeminded people, and also knowing that there are staff onsite. Although you live independently, the community aspect of the village means you can feel safe and secure in your own home.

Residents enjoy a fulfilling lifestyle in well maintained surroundings, without the burden of maintenance. You will never have to worry about mowing the lawns, cleaning the gutters or taking the rubbish out.

Your weekly rental fee gives you more than just a rental unit. Community facilities are available to use at your leisure, social activities are arranged for you to participate in should you wish, and services are available to help make your life easier.

Renting in retirement is a great way to get the best of both worlds – independent living in a community environment.

Simple payment structure

At Garden Villages we make life simple with your only financial obligation being your weekly rent. There are no hidden costs, everything else has been taken care of for you.

There are no expensive upfront fees or exit fees, just like renting in the private market all you need to pay is a one off refundable tenancy bond.

Leases can be anywhere from 6 months onwards, providing you with flexibility.

A resident's story

I am a very happy and settled resident here at Garden Villages. I decided to move here two years ago when looking after my own home became too much for me to cope with.

I have no regrets since moving here. We are all so very well looked after. I have my meals provided and enjoy sitting down to a hot lunch in the dining room with the other residents. I'm close enough to the shops and services that I need and I enjoy taking part in the social events here. I was also able to bring my dog, Harry, with me and he enjoys the village also! I only wish I'd made the move earlier.
